

GROOMIS AWARD APPLICATION - 2024

Do you have a Classics-related project (virtual or otherwise) in mind for the summer? Could you use funding for it? If so, please describe the project on this page and submit the sheet electronically to Prof. Groton (groton@stolaf.edu) by midnight on Monday, April 1, 2024. We have some money available in the Groton and Loomis (= Groomis) Endowment Funds and would like to use it to support worthy summer projects.

You do not need to be a Classics major in order to apply for a Groomis Award, but you must already have taken at least one course in Greek, Latin, or Classics at St. Olaf. Sample projects: participation (virtual or otherwise) in a conference or archaeological dig, internship, intensive language program, study abroad, travel to a research library, museum, or historic site.

Awards are typically up to $500.

NAME: _____

YEAR (first year, sophomore, junior, senior): _____

MAJOR (may be definite or tentative): _____

PREVIOUS COURSE(S) YOU HAVE TAKEN IN GREEK, LATIN, OR CLASSICS:

DESCRIPTION OF PAPER OR PROJECT (including estimated costs)

AMOUNT OF MONEY NEEDED (attach detailed budget if necessary): _____