Coaching Staff

Gabe Kortuem '02 is in his 10th year as diving coach at St. Olaf and Carleton colleges. While a student at St. Olaf, he made four national appearances and earned seven All-American honors. In 2002 he was a national champion and set the Division III national record. Since Kortuem became the diving coach at St. Olaf, five divers have qualified for the Division III national meet and many have earned All-American honors. He was voted the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) Diving Coach of the Year in 2007, 2008, and 2009.

Each summer Kortuem surrounds himself with top diving coaches to complete his staff. Past coaches have included:

Gregg Rappe has coached high school, college, and club diving for more than 30 seasons. His athletes have gone on to become state champions at the high school level, and many have earned All-State honors. Rappe also coached many college athletes to All-American honors and one to a national championship.

Reuben Rappe is the head diving coach at Binghamton University. A 2008 graduate of the University of Massachusetts, he led the UMass swimming and diving squad to two Atlantic 10 Swimming and Diving Championships. Rappe was the Atlantic 10 Conference 1-meter diving champion all four of his collegiate years. He concluded his stellar career with four university records and two conference records. Rappe was also named the A-10 Most Outstanding Diver in 2008.
