

HEDS Returning Student Survey Comparison Report St. Olaf College

Whether Students Opted to Have Follow-Up Conversations

At the end of the survey, we asked students if they wanted to share their responses to the survey with any individuals or offices from your institution so that they could have a conversation with those individuals/offices about their goals and how to accomplish them. In the graphs below, we show the percentage of students who opted to share their results and have a conversation with someone from your institution. The first graph compares your students' responses to those of students from all other participating institutions. The following graphs focus on your students only: the second graph breaks down results by gender (women and men); the third graph breaks down results by race/ethnicity (U.S. white, U.S. persons of color, and international); the fourth graph breaks down your results by Pell status; and the fifth graph breaks down your results by first generation status.

Whether Students Opted to Have Follow-Up Conversations
(% Yes) - Your Students, by Gender

Whether Students Opted to Have Follow-Up Conversations
(% Yes) - Your Students, by Race/Ethnicity

