

HEDS Returning Student Survey Comparison Report St. Olaf College

Strategies Students Might Use to Get More Out of Online Learning

In the graphs below, we show results for Q8, "Suppose St. Olaf College has to resume some form of online learning for a time because of COVID-19, which of the following might be useful strategies to help you be successful and get the most out of your education? (Check all that apply)." The first graph compares your students' responses to those of students from all other participating institutions. The following graphs focus on your students only: the second graph breaks down results by gender (women and men) and the third graph breaks down results by race/ethnicity (U.S. white, U.S. persons of color, and international).
