

Department: _____

The number of lecture and discussion sections (not including labs) your department/program offers at any one time may equal no more than 10% of your department's/program's total number of offerings for the semester. Round down for decimals between 0.1 and 0.5; round up for decimals between 0.6 and 0.9. If any of your numbers show a significant deviation from the "10% rule," please make revisions to your department plan. If you do not make these these revisions, the Registrar reserves the right to do so.
