ADDITIONAL EVENTS ON CAMPUS

Friday, May 4, 2018

10 a.m.–5 p.m.

Center for Art and Dance

The 2018 Senior Show features 29 student artists, with artwork spanning two galleries, the central corridor, and several installation spaces throughout the building. This is an annual exhibition and culminating event in the curriculum of St. Olaf studio art majors. Themes from diverse disciplines run through the young artist's work as they draw on academic influences from their four years on the Hill. Nearly all the artwork is for sale, making this a great time to buy one-of-a-kind work by emerging artists.

Lasting Legacy is an annual exhibition series curated by senior art history majors. This year's show is titled Anti-Aura: Interrogating Authenticity and is co-curated by art history majors, Class of 2018. Starting with Walter Benjamin's concept of aura — an object's connection to space, time, and ritual — this exhibition investigates the notion of authenticity in art. By purposely choosing works with questionable authenticity, this exhibition features works that complicate the perceived authority of an original work of art. With works from Flaten Art Museum's collection attributed to Georgia O'Keeffe, Eugène Delacroix, and Wassily Kandinsky, the exhibition delves into fakes, forgeries, and formulations of cultural identity. The exhibition considers the authentic, or the "real," which encompasses authorship, style, and use of medium to interrogate the multiplicity of authenticity. (Center for Art and Dance 205)

JOHN BARBOUR AND MEG OJALA

Honor and Coming of Age

Professors John Barbour and Meg Ojala will explore the complexity and multiple meanings of honor and its relationship to coming of age. Coming of age doesn't happen suddenly or only once, but many times in the course of a life. What is the meaning of honor and coming of age in the context of a liberal arts education at St. Olaf College?

Professor of Religion John Barbour graduated from Oberlin College and received his Ph.D. in the field of Religion and Literature from the University of Chicago Divinity School. His teaching and research interests center on ethical and theological issues raised in fiction and autobiography, such as the ways narratives explore the meanings of sin, grace, and community.

Since coming to the St. Olaf Religion Department in 1982, Barbour has served as department chair (1998–2001), the first Martin Marty Regents Chair in Religion and the Academy (2004–08), and the O.C. and Patricia Boldt Chair in the Humanities (2012–15). In addition to teaching 20 different religion courses, Barbour has taught in the Paracollege and the Great Conversation.

Barbour has written four scholarly books: Tragedy as a Critique of Virtue: The Novel and Ethical Reflection (1984), The Conscience of the Autobiographer: Ethical and Religious Dimensions of Autobiography (1992), Versions of Deconversion: Autobiography and the Loss of Faith (1994), and The Value of Solitude: The Ethics and Spirituality of Aloneness in Autobiography (2004). He also published Renunciation: A Novel in 2013. Barbour currently is writing a book entitled Travel and Transformation: No-Self in Western Buddhist Travel Narratives.

Professor of Art and Art History Meg Ojala received her B.A. from the University of Minnesota and her M.F.A. from The School of The Art Institute of Chicago. Ojala closely observes, draws, and photographs the landscape, exploring perceptions of space, the visual poetry of representation and abstraction, and the ways in which photographs transform the world. She joined the St. Olaf art and art history faculty in 1983, where she developed the photography curriculum, and served as department chair from 2006–08.

Ojala's landscape projects include photographs for conservation and protection efforts such as This Perennial Land, a book project encouraging conservation of the Blue Earth watershed, and an interdisciplinary project with St. Olaf colleagues and students retracing the 1838 expedition route of Joseph N. Nicollet. She is the recipient of numerous awards, including multiple McKnight Foundation Artist Fellowships for Photographers, Minnesota State Arts Board Artist Initiative Grants, and a grant from the Southeastern Minnesota Arts Council. She has exhibited nationally and internationally, and is represented by Groveland Gallery in Minneapolis.

Together, Barbour and Ojala were field supervisors for the Global Semester program in 2001–02 and Term in Asia in 2008–09. Barbour led seven January Interim courses in Rome, Mexico City, Chicago's Newberry Library, and Holden Village, and Ojala twice led the New York Art Interim. In 2017, they also led the Alumni and Family Travel program, "Hiking Scotland's Islands." They have two sons and a grandson.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The traditional academic procession introduces many of the more formal and significant events at St. Olaf, as it does on most college and university campuses. Leading the faculty procession and seated in the front rows of the faculty are the current holders of distinguished professorships and endowed chairs.

Although the history of wearing distinctive apparel as an indication of scholarship and academic rank dates back to 1321, the practice was not adopted throughout the United States until about 1900. The cap worn almost universally in academic processions is the Oxford cap, better known as the mortarboard. It is always black. A different style, called the Cambridge cap, resembles a large beret.

The use of a dark robe in academic processions is thought to have arisen from the clerical practice of wearing a cape or mantle in religious processions in the 12th and 13th centuries when universities arose from cathedral schools.

Traditionally, gowns are also black. However, a number of universities have adopted alternate gowns that use their traditional school colors, such as crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, maroon for Chicago, and orange hashmarks and lining for Princeton.

The academic hoods, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown, are lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is usually distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, as follows: economics, copper; education, light blue; fine arts, brown; humanities, white; law, purple; library science, lemon; medicine, green; music, pink; nursing, apricot; philosophy, dark blue; physical education, sage green; science, golden yellow; social science, cream; social work, citron; speech, silver gray; and theology, scarlet.

IN EXPLANATION

The general honors list includes all full-time students who have a cumulative grade point average, through Interim, of cum laude (3.60) or above.

For further information on GPA requirements, visit the St. Olaf Registrar's website at stolaf.edu/offices/registrar.

The St. Olaf scholarships and awards that are listed are provided in large measure by specially designated gifts to the college.
