MARY CISAR

Professor of French, Romance Languages

Mary Cisar grew up in Elmhurst, Illinois. She earned her B.A., Phi Beta Kappa, at Kalamazoo College with a major in French and a minor in German. She benefitted from the experiential learning opportunities offered by the college's K Plan, an integrated, personalized approach to its undergraduate liberal arts education: she completed an internship with the chaplain at the Clarinda (Iowa) State Hospital; studied in Caen, France; and completed her student teaching and secondary teaching certification. She returned to Caen following graduation to serve as a Fulbright English Teaching Assistant. She then earned her M.A. and Ph.D. in French Studies from Brown University.

Cisar, who joined the St. Olaf faculty in 1978, has spent her entire teaching career at the college. In addition to teaching all levels of French on campus and in Paris, she has taught in several interdisciplinary programs: the Paracollege; the Great Conversation; Women's Studies; and in the Education Department. Her administrative roles at the college have included terms as director of Women's Studies and chair of the Department of Romance Languages. From 2002 until 2015, she served as the college registrar and assistant vice-president for academic affairs and, from 2012 to 2015 as director of the Academic Support Center.

Her scholarly work has focused especially on the French Enlightenment. She has published articles on diverse topics, but especially on Jean-Jacques Rousseau and on one of the primary women of the French Revolution, Marie-Jeanne Phlipon Roland de la Platière (Madame Roland), the subject of her doctoral dissertation. Her research and teaching have most recently focused on the influence on Thomas Jefferson of French Enlightenment authors and their ideas, including several botanists and horticulturists; the literature of the 'Jungle' refugee camp of Calais; and the French Canadian novelist Gabrielle Roy.

Cisar has lived in Northfield since 1978; her family includes her husband, a step-daughter, and two daughters.

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The traditional academic procession introduces many of the more formal and significant events at St. Olaf, as it does on most college and university campuses. Leading the faculty procession and seated in the front rows of the faculty are the current holders of distinguished professorships and endowed chairs.

Although the history of wearing distinctive apparel as an indication of scholarship and academic rank dates back to 1321, the practice was not adopted throughout the United States until about 1900. The cap worn almost universally in academic processions is the Oxford cap, better known as the mortarboard. It is always black. A different style, called the Cambridge cap, resembles a large beret.

The use of a dark robe in academic processions is thought to have arisen from the clerical practice of wearing a cape or mantle in religious processions in the 12th and 13th centuries when universities arose from cathedral schools.

Traditionally, gowns are also black. However, a number of universities have adopted alternate gowns that use their traditional school colors, such as crimson for Harvard, blue for Yale, maroon for Chicago, and orange hashmarks and lining for Princeton.

The academic hoods, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown, are lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is usually distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains, as follows: economics, copper; education, light blue; fine arts, brown; humanities, white; law, purple; library science, lemon; medicine, green; music, pink; nursing, apricot; philosophy, dark blue; physical education, sage green; science, golden yellow; social science, cream; social work, citron; speech, silver gray; and theology, scarlet.

IN EXPLANATION

The general honors list includes all full-time students who have a cumulative grade point average, through Interim, of cum laude (3.60) or above.

For further information on GPA requirements, visit the St. Olaf Registrar's website at stolaf.edu/offices/registrar.

The St. Olaf scholarships and awards that are listed are provided in large measure by specially designated gifts to the college.

THE RECEPTION

All students, visiting parents, donors of scholarships and awards, and faculty and staff are invited to a reception in the Crossroads of Buntrock Commons immediately following the Honors Day convocation.

ADDITIONAL EVENTS ON CAMPUS

Friday, May 3, 2019

10 a.m.–5 p.m. — Center for Art and Dance

The 2019 Senior Show features 23 student artists with artwork spanning two galleries and the central corridor in the Center for Art and Dance. This is an annual exhibition and culminating event in the curriculum of St. Olaf studio art majors. Themes from diverse disciplines run through the young artist's work as they draw on a range of academic influences. Nearly all the artwork is for sale, making this a great time to support emerging artists.

Lasting Legacy is an annual exhibition series curated by senior art history majors. This year's show, Perception, Perspective & Power, explores relationships among artist, viewer, subject, and medium with works from the Flaten Art Museum collection. The exhibition is on view in the Object Study Room. (Center for Art and Dance 205)

8 a.m.–5 p.m. — Rølvaag Memorial Library

Nicolas Lampert: Activist-Artist is currently showcased in the entryway of Rølvaag Memorial Library. Lampert is a Milwaukee-based interdisciplinary artist and author whose work focuses on themes of social justice and ecology. The St. Olaf Special Collections have acquired multiple Lampert prints as a part of our growing collection of Artist's Books. On display are silk-screen prints inspired by numerous recent activist movements, including the 2017 Women's March, Black Lives Matter, #NODAPL, and migrant workers' rights. Also on display is Lampert's first book, A People's Art History of the United States: 250 Years of Activist Art and Artists Working in Social Justice Movements, published by The New Press in 2013. Lampert's work documents the power of art in resistance, when shared within a community and deployed to advocate for a community's rights.

The Bodman-Lang East Asian Collection exhibit is displayed in the Reference Room atrium on the third floor of Rølvaag Memorial Library. The exhibit showcases Special Collections items within the Bodman-Lang East Asian Collection. Donated by Professor Emeritus of Chinese and Asian Studies Richard Bodman and his wife, Hongyuan Lang, the collection spans the 17th through 21st centuries and contains materials in Chinese, Japanese, Sino-Korean, Manchu, Mongol, and Batak. Many items represent four traditional divisions of Chinese bibliography: classics, history, philosophy, and anthologies. The collection also contains a wide variety of materials, including illustrated newspapers, painting manuals, children's books, novels, almanacs, religious books, and school textbooks.

The College Archives | Collection Assessments exhibit is currently in the display case on Rølvaag Memorial Library's second floor, across from room 211. This exhibit presents conservation and preservation initiatives underway in the archives to preserve artifacts for future generations. In June and July of 2018, college archives contracted specialists from the Conservation Center for Art & Historic Artifacts (CCAHA) to survey the condition of collections and thoroughly describe their current condition and recommend conservation and treatment. On display are artifacts from each category surveyed: photographs, paper, textiles, objects, and audio-visual materials. Some featured items include a fur hat worn by the first St. Olaf president, Thorbjorn Mohn, and a panoramic photo from the laying of the cornerstone of Mellby Hall in 1937. In the future, the college archives will work with CCAHA to best meet the needs of these items in preparation for the construction of a new vault.
